HONGKONG, NOVEMBER 13TH, 1911.

The criticism of the Colonial Estimates in the Legislative Council last week, as perhaps, must necessarily always be the case, centered chiefly on the public works for which appropriations are asked. The dissatisfaction very generally expressed in this connection in the Colony, and voiced by the Unofficial Members of the Council, has culminated in a demand for a Commission of Inquiry into the working of the Public Works Department, especially in regard to the delays in the execution of important public works. During the past five years these seemingly interminable delays have been the subject of much complaint and have unquestionably proved very costly to the Colony. In asking for this inquiry the unofficial members hope that means will be suggested whereby a repetition of such delays will in future be prevented, and the general result be beneficial alike to the Government and the community. H. E. the Governor when referring to this demand in the course of his reply on the debate, confessed that there are several matters in connection with the Public Works Department with which he has long been dissatisfied, not the able, conscientious, hard-working and efficient Director of Public Works, in whom he, like his predecessor in office, has the greatest confidence; but with "the system," some of the disadvantages of which His Excellency enumerated. As, however, His Excellency a few weeks ago, decided to himself inquire very fully into "the system," after the Estimates had been approved, his sanction of a Commission has been deferred until he has collected facts and formulated his own views upon the whole subject. When that has been done, His Excellency said he would probably ask several unofficial members of the Council to assist on a Commission, if the appointment of one should be necessary. With that promise, we are sure, the community will be satisfied, especially as His Excellency has promised that, in any case, he will give the Legislative Council a full opportunity of discussing clear issues. His Excellency referred to the Commission that sat ten years ago and after nearly six months' deliberation furnished a report which, summed up in a word, His Excellency said, appears to be that the staff of the department was insufficient. We are inclined to think expert inquiry now would result in a similar report, for there has certainly been much in the public grumbling concerning the work of the Department which indicates either inexcusable remissness or sheer inability to cope with the volume of work on hand. His Excellency, in fact, mentioned in the course of his speech that the Public Works Department is "always engaged in the Sisyphean task of trying to overtake arrears." He mentioned also that the Head of the Department is "overweighted," and that some form of decentralisation seemed desirable. This, we can well believe, especially when we contrast the duties and responsibilities of the Director of Public Works in Hongkong with those, say, of any of the more highly paid chief engineers of the London municipal districts. We imagine that an exhaustive inquiry such as the Unofficial Members of Council have asked for will be nowhere more welcomed than in the Public Works Department itself. Should the inquiry which H. E. the Governor is now about to make show in its results that an increased staff is necessary, it will obviously be to the best interests of the Colony that any deficiency should be remedied, as being more economical in the end than having important public works indefinitely hung up through the inefficiency of the present staff to cope with the work of the Department. But the chief cause is doubtless to be found in the system under which contracts are let. His Excellency, who indicated this as one of the subjects he purposes to investigate, remarked that very large tenders are let to a contractor who, frequently sublet them, and again they are sublet. In many cases, even during His Excellency's short experience here, the original contractor has failed, and his security has not been enough to cover his liabilities. Any additions or alterations made in the tenders vitiate the contract, and generally litigation or arbitration, frequently adverse to the Government, follows. His Excellency mentioned that he discussed this matter only a few days before his death with the late Colonial Secretary, who expressed the same views, and His Excellency informed the Council that he had decided to go fully into the question, and only deferred doing so until the pressure of work in connection with the estimates was out of the way. In any case he intended to go into it before the contract for Tytam Tuk is let. We believe we are correct in saying that in the case of the Law Courts the Government had finally to dispense altogether with the contractor, and the men engaged on the work have been directly employed by the Government. It would seem to be well worth while inquiring how far it will be possible to follow this example in all future public works.

"We have to notify our readers that there will be no issue of the Hongkong Daily Press tomorrow, it having been decreed presumably by the revolutionary organisation that today shall be observed by the Chinese in the Colony as a public holiday to celebrate the birth of the Kwangtung Republic. Only the telegrams received in the course of the day will be distributed to subscribers tomorrow.

The French Mail of the 10th October was delivered in London on 9th November.

The author of the personal sketch of Sun Yat Sen, which we reproduce on page 6 from a London paper, is, we understand, Mr. Thos. H. Reid, formerly editor of the China Mail and later of the Straits Times.

Messrs. THE REVOLUTION.

SUPPORT FROM CHINESE IN JAPAN.

Tokyo, November 11th.

There is steadily increasing activity and unrest among the Chinese students and traders in Japan.

At Tokyo the students demanded money from the Chinese Legation to enable them to return home. The Minister fled.

A medical college party of thirty headed by a Japanese doctor has left to render medical aid to the revolutionaries.

The Chinese at Yokohama, Kobe, and Nagasaki are subscribing liberally towards the funds of the Revolutionaries.

General Chan-piao, the refugee commander of the revolting Wuchang Division, looking haggard, has arrived with his family at Nagasaki, where he is staying at a Japanese inn under the protection of police.

UNEASINESS IN MANCHURIA.

Tokyo, November 12th.

An uneasy situation is developing in Manchuria.

A society for the maintenance of peace has been formed at Mukden.

It includes foreigners. Its objects are vague. It is considered that its aim is to enlist international sympathy.

The troops are on the point of mutiny. The protection of foreigners has been assumed by the Japanese Consul at Mukden.

INCENDIARISM AT FOCHOW.

London, November 9th.

The Manchus at Fochow unsuccessfully attempted to burn the foreign settlement. The Republicans executed 27 incendiaries.

BOMBARDMENT OF HANYANG.

London, November 13th.

Reuter's correspondent at Peking telegraphs that it is reported that the Imperialists have begun to bombard Hanyang.

PARTITIONING OF CHINA.

Yuan Shi Kai has telegraphed that there are dissensions among the rebel leaders, and that General Li Yuan Hong, with whom Yuan Shi Kai has been negotiating, shows signs of agreeing to a peaceful compromise, China south of the Yangtze becoming republican and Manchuria and Chihli remaining monarchical, while the other provinces are to choose their own government. Much depends on the attitude of General Chang, who is controlling the situation.

YUAN SHI KAI REFUSES PREMIERSHIP.

LATER.

Yuan Shi Kai has again telegraphed to the Throne, refusing to accept the office of Premier.

THE WAR IN TRIPOLI.

PERCE FIGHTING.

London, November 11th.

The Arabs made a series of attacks yesterday in Tripoli upon several fronts, and then again gathered in the oasis, firing on the Italian rear. The attacks were repulsed.

An expedition will be despatched to clear out the oasis.

LATER.

Telegrams from Rome report that a fight took place yesterday at Tripoli lasting seven hours. The Turks made a desperate effort to recover Fort Hamideh, but were repulsed.

London, November 12th. Telegrams from Malta state that an Austrian steamer from Tripoli reports fighting on Friday of the fiercest description. The Arabs made savage rushes close to the Italian trenches and many hand to hand combats took place. There were heavy casualties on both sides.

THE REICHSTAG AND THE MOROCCO QUESTION.

London, November 11th.

Berlin telegrams report the resumption of the Morocco debate in the Reichstag.

Dr. Wiemer (Radical) said he did not grudge France the lion's share provided a lasting understanding was reached. He pointed out that the Crown Prince's appearance in the House and his attitude during the speeches of Herr Heydebrand and Baron Hertling already had their echo abroad, and he regretted exceedingly that the work of peace should be so jeopardised.

The speech was greeted with shouts of approval from the Left and with loud laughter from the Centre party.

Herr Schultz (Imperialist) said that never had a storm of indignation swept over the land as over these Treaties. An English Minister seemed to be ordering Germans to halt, "recalling the days when foreigners ruled us. Those days are beyond recall."

LATER.

Dr. Bethmann-Hollweg, the whole of whose speech was received with marked disapproval on Thursday, was yesterday cheered by the House in a passionate rebuke administered to Herr Heydebrand, who is popularly known as the "unwashed King of Prussia." The Chancellor said that he regretted the words used in the Reichstag regarding Great Britain which were not usual in a parliament with a sense of responsibility. They were words of passion going beyond all bounds and must harm the German Empire. A strong man need not ever be carrying the sword. He must openly say that there were forces at work which were more concerned with the impending elections than with Morocco. The German Press generally condemns the attitude of the Crown Prince.

London, November 12th.

The Kaiser, it is understood, has strongly disapproved of the attitude of the Crown Prince, who is not to attend further debates.

NEW UNIONIST LEADER.

MR. BONAR LAW SELECTED.

London, November 11th.

In the Lobby of the House of Commons last night the general belief was that Mr. Bonar Law would be the new Unionist leader. The supporters of Mr. Austen Chamberlain and of Mr. Walter Long are unable to adjust their differences.

It is reported that Mr. Balfour has declined a Peerage, but that it is expected that he will receive the Order of Merit.

LATER.

The selection of Mr. Bonar Law for the leadership of the Unionist party is confirmed.

All his colleagues have given assurances that they will support him loyally.

The meeting of the party called for Monday will therefore be unanimous.

Mr. Austen Chamberlain and Mr. Walter Long will propose the nomination of Mr. Bonar Law as leader.

Mr. Bonar Law has intimated his acceptance of the leadership.

THE CHRISTMAS MAIL.

The Christmas parcels mail left for Home on Saturday by the Arctica. It was much heavier than last year. All day on Friday the Parcels Post counter at the General Post Office was thronged by people dispatching parcels to their friends in the Old Country. The officials in charge of that department were kept exceedingly busy, and are to be commended upon the dispatch with which this most important branch of the postal business was carried through. The total number of parcels dispatched to the United Kingdom was 1,769, of which 1,552 were ordinary parcels and 417 insured parcels.

THE DURBAR.

London, November 11th.

King George, prior to his departure for India, had a long conference with Mr. Asquith. A meeting of the Privy Council was also held at Buckingham Palace, at which the Special Commission to exercise the executive functions of the Crown during His Majesty's absence, consisting of Prince Arthur of Connaught, the Archbishop of Canterbury, Baron Loreburn and Lord Morley, was appointed.

DEPARTURE OF THEIR MAJESTIES

London, November 12th.

Their Majesties left London for India yesterday, receiving a great ovation. They drove in an open landau with postillions and an escort of Horse Guards from Buckingham Palace to Victoria Station, being accompanied by the Prince of Wales and Princess Mary.

Large crowds had assembled at the station, and on the platform was a distinguished gathering of three hundred, including every member of the Royal Family, Ambassadors, the Premier and members of the Cabinet, the Archbishop of Canterbury, Dominion and Colonial representatives, and India Office officials.

The guard of honour was furnished by the Coldstream Guards.

After the National Anthem had been played the King bade farewell and had an animated conversation with several of those present. As the train steamed out the National Anthem was again played.

Queen Alexandra and Prince Arthur of Connaught accompanied their Majesties to Portsmouth.

On arrival at Portsmouth their Majesties were received by a brilliant naval and military gathering, guards of honour, and massed bands. The King and Queen boarded the Medina, and when the Royal Standard was broken from the masthead the Victoria fired salutes.

The royal luncheon party on board included Queen Alexandra, Princess Maud, Princess Victoria, the Prince of Wales and Princess Mary. Afterwards some time was taken up in saying farewell before the Medina proceeded seawards.

At Spithead the Medina was met by the first division of the Home Fleet and the first cruiser squadron, which escorted her part of the way down the Channel. The royal naval procession was unrivalled for impressiveness, including as it did ten of the finest battleships and cruisers in the world.

MR. CHURCHILL'S PRONOUNCEMENT.

London, November 11th.

All shades of opinion unite in welcoming Mr. Churchill's speech as assuring the maintenance of naval supremacy at all costs.

Lord Charles Beresford, speaking at Portsmouth, assured Mr. Churchill that if he took a national and imperial interest in the Navy and stopped his almost feminine animosities in its administration, he would have no more loyal supporter than Lord Beresford.

TEST CRICKET.

London, November 10th.

Glorious weather favoured the continuation of the match between Marylebone and South Australia at Adelaide. Marylebone brought their score up to 563. Warner contributed 151. His exhibition was masterly, only giving one chance. Foster made 155. His was a fine all-round lucky display.

South Australia made 85 for four wickets when stumps were drawn.

THE LIVERPOOL CUP.

London, November 11th.

The race for the Liverpool Autumn Cup, run yesterday at Liverpool, resulted as follows:—

Trepida ... (Winter) 1
Willaura ... (Hurley) 2
Mustapha ... (Saxby) 3

There were 14 starters.

The betting was 11 to 2 against Trepida, 7 to 1 against Willaura, and 8 to 1 against Mustapha.

Trepida won by two lengths, and a head separated second and third.

Trepida soon settled down and drew to the front, being followed by Hamerton, Succour, Willaura, and Desman. On entering the straight Willaura and Mustapha challenged the leader, but could make no impression, Trepida winning easily. King William was fourth.

RANDOM REFLECTIONS.

These are days when history is being made China, which seemed to lag behind the other nations of the world, is proving her up-to-dateness by going in for a revolution, and like the other countries whose example she is following she seems likely to meet with success in the enterprise, success at least so far as the overthrow of the existing government is concerned. To say more would not be wise, for even the most optimistic are doubtful as to China's immediate future.

Still, it is something for us living on the borders of the great empire to note the progress of a movement which is far-reaching in its possibilities. We have long been accustomed to unrest and revolt in China, and few there were who thought that this outbreak was unlike the others doomed to stern repression after a visionary gleam of success, but success has followed success, and the movement has become so widespread that there seems to be little hope of the Manchus being able to hold their position. Nobody is particularly sorry for the reigning dynasty, and the general opinion seems to be that the condition of the country cannot be much worse under a new régime than it is at present.

When the Chinese talk about Manchu oppression and the people groaning under their misrule, it has to be remembered that this is a pleasing little fiction. The Manchus may occupy the higher positions, but the rulers of most provinces, the mandarins, and at the army of petty officials are Chinese, so that, after all, those who harass and oppress the people, those who squeeze them, are themselves Chinese. China wants to be delivered from the Chinese as well as the Manchus, and if there are any hopes of purer administration being established by the new government, then it will have the support of all right thinking people. But on that subject I feel almost as pessimistic as Edgar Allan Poe's raven with its perpetual "nevermore."

The mafficking of Monday in Hongkong was an experience which was enjoyed by most people who went out to do the sights. The crowds were so happy, so hilarious, and so good-humoured that one felt it difficult to refrain from sharing in their joy. True, they did not always observe the strict letter of the law, but after all, that may well be forgiven in the great excitement of the occasion, though it is an occurrence which the authorities do not wish to see happen again. One feature which was reminiscent of Maffeking night in Great Britain was the determination of the young bloods to make everybody celebrate the event. Those who appeared lukewarm or unenthusiastic were forced in some places to jubilate by firing crackers, and several householders and shopkeepers who were disinclined to make any display were compelled to buy crackers and discharge them. This was like the crova at Home, where forced men of pro-Ber sympathies to join in the fan march against their wishes. As I said before, this conduct may be tolerated for once, but it must not occur again, or there will be trouble. Those who exercise force will find that there is another force.

There is something very wise after all in the selection of a newspaper editor for the presidency of the new republic of Kwangtung. A man who has been in the position of a critic and who has told others what they ought to do should be given the opportunity of testing the policy which he advocated. At any rate it is one way of silencing an critic, though it may give rise to others, as I have no doubt that the gentlemen boasting the largest circulations might be clamouring for recognition also.

The full-dress debate on the Budget took place on Thursday. The officials made the usual oratorical display on the occasion, and filled columns of the newspapers with their words of criticism and condemnation of Government policy. On the whole the Government may congratulate itself on having got off so lightly, though nasty things were said about some of our public buildings. The Post Office and the Law Courts may offend certain aesthetic faddists, but after all, like the man with the wart on his nose, we get used to them and they cease to worry us.

If the Hon. Mr. Hawett's interpretation of the Colonial balance sheet or statement of accounts be correct, Hongkong's financial position is not so good as it has been made out, but as the imperturbable Colonial Treasurer remained quite unruffled after the bold assertion of a deficit instead of a credit balance we may take it that all is well. At the same time the criticism as to the form in which the accounts are presented stands good. It may be according to form prescribed by the Colonial Office, but while the accounts are presented in that form for the Secretary of State it might be possible to prepare another statement drawn up in accord with business ideas which may be readily understood by the ordinary business man.

The practice dances for St. Andrew's Ball made a good beginning on Thursday, and local Scots are doing the charitable by instructing Southrons in the difficult movements of the Strathspey and reel. As you know, there are always people who spoil fun, and so it is here. People who ought to know better bring their dogs to the ball, and parents who ought to read the notices issued by the committee bring children with them. Surely the protests which have been made will result in a discontinuation of the offences.

ROBERT LAMOND.

THE REVOLUTION.

THE NEW ADMINISTRATION AT CANTON.

The acting "President of the Republic" at Canton is Mr. Wu Han-man, who, we learn, is a Chinese B.A., and has spent four or five years in Japan. He was employed a few years ago in the Office of Messrs. Thomas Cook & Son, but later he combined with the office of treasurer of the rebel organization in South China. He is the first one and then another newspaper published in Hongkong in the interests of the organization.

It is also currently reported that the Hon. Dr. Ho Kai, C.M.G., the senior unofficial member of the Hongkong Legislative Council will be the Commissioner for Foreign Affairs.

CELEBRATION IN HONGKONG.

Arrangements had been made, presumably by the Chinese revolutionary organization in Hongkong for to-day being observed as a holiday by the Chinese in Hongkong to enable them to celebrate the proclamation of the new régime in Kwangtung, but we were officially informed late last night by the Captain Superintendent of Police that a general desire had been expressed for the postponement of the celebration to a later date. The Chinese having made their arrangements are disinclined to forego the celebration to-day. The Government, which had sanctioned the firing of crackers for two hours to-day, has cancelled its permission.

THE SITUATION AT CANTON.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

November 10th. To-day has been very quiet in the City with the exception of the incessant oratorical firing. By the French line steamship that arrived here this morning the bulk of the Revolutionary Committee came to the City, but the President, Mr. Wu, did not put in an appearance, at which many were greatly disgusted. I hear, however, that he has arrived this afternoon.

No definite plan of government seems to have been settled, and no one appears to know who is really at the head of affairs. One thing is very evident, and that is that there does not appear to be a single Royalist in the town, and another thing is that the people are now under the impression that Kwong Tung is now a separate and independent Republic. The new flag is flying everywhere, and not a single specimen of the old dragon flag is in evidence. The shops are still closed in the Old City, and, as I mentioned in my last night's letter, gambling stalls have sprung up like mushrooms everywhere, and the good work of Viceroy Chang in putting down this vice seems to have been entirely overthrown. Opinion is divided as to whether licensed gambling will again make its appearance. Some say it is sure to be re-instituted, while others say that the people are only going to be allowed three days in which to "hot-serve" ("open their hearts") and rejoice. The streets are thronged with crowds of most forbidding-looking characters, many of whom have not only cut their queues but have shaved their heads as bald as an Indian's. It is noticeable that not many of the staid and reputable persons have divested themselves of their "tails," those who have done so appearing to be youths carried away by an excess of zeal. Many cases of looting and smuggling have occurred, the perpetrators of these outrages being in all probability the criminals who were liberated from the gaols yesterday afternoon.

All the police are wearing the white badge of the revolution on their arms, and I notice that they appear less concerned than usual in keeping order.

The great event of the day, however, has been the advent to the city of a large number of pirates and bandits from Lok Ching and other places round about Fatsan. These men, about two thousand in number, together with some revolted troops, came in by train about 3 o'clock, and are to join the revolutionary army. These men were of all ages, some being only boys about fifteen years of age. All were armed, and the variety of weapons almost beggars description. Many were provided with up-to-date rifles of German design. The greater part, however, were armed with old-fashioned guns the like of which are rarely to be seen nowadays outside a museum. Some had old blunderbusses and others guns with barrels about ten feet long. Many who had no guns had revolvers and pistols, and of this kind of weapon the variety was almost as great as that of the guns. A man with a fine Mauser could be seen walking near a comrade armed with an old horse-pistol such as was used in Marlborough's time. I saw one lad armed with a tiny Deringer pistol and an iron bar. Some of those who had no firearms of any kind were prepared to do battle with long swords and murderous-looking knives. Some, indeed, had only iron rods and steel gun-pin, or fighting chains, such as were used years and years ago by Chinese "braves." The rear of this motley crowd was brought up by a number of men carrying tin carefully placed in baskets of unhusked rice and said to contain dynamite. If indeed this were the case, there was enough of the explosive to have wrecked half Canton. These fighting men were accompanied by men carrying bundles of foul and ragged clothing slung on poles which evidently belonged to some of those in the procession. Most of the men had clogged their tails roughly off, although I noticed that several had coiled their queues under their hats. The whole crowd were extremely dirty and ragged, and some looked as if they had not made acquaintance with soap and water for months. The faces of a number of them were stamped with an expression of brutality and ferocity that reminded one of beasts of prey rather than human beings. I am told by a gentleman who in the course of his business has to travel much in the Fatsan District that those of this crowd of "patriots" who were not professional brigands are old fantan folk, market-place bullies and village rowdies. These are the men, then, that are forming part of the new Republican army, and the people fondly imagine that they are now one and all to become good, law-abiding soldiers and an example of good conduct to the citizens of the new Republic. May it turn out to be so. If such men as entered this town to-day get out of hand and return to their former vocations, Canton is likely to have anxious days in store.

As I am writing this I am told that the big Arsenal which lies some distance from Wong Sha is being attacked and that the large cement works on Honam Island have been stormed and taken by them, and that certain foreign employees there have had to flee for safety.

A rumour is now going the rounds which I give with all reserve. It appears that when the rebels took over this city they expected to find about half a million taels in the Treasury, instead of which they found a paltry sum of a few thousand dollars, the Viceroy (so the story goes) having made provision for the safety of the Government treasure before his flight. This has so exasperated the rebel leaders that they have offered a reward of $20,000 for the capture of the late Viceroy. As I mentioned above, I do not guarantee the truth of this story and give it under all reserve.

Shamoen is well protected by bluejackets and marines, and the Shamoen Defence Corps has been under arms for two days. British, French, German, American, Portuguese and Japanese gunboats are anchored off the Settlement.

[Another correspondent informs us that Mr. Wu, the acting President of the Kwangtung Republic, informed the Consuls on Saturday that he had assumed charge of the new Government.]

THE REVOLUTION IN SWATOW.

November 10th. The long-threatened revolution has at last taken place here, and a more peaceful affair it would be hard to imagine. A few flags were pulled down and a few notices issued, and that is practically the sum total of the organized activity. But perhaps it would be well to review in order the events of the last few days.

The first definite act of rebellion here was the circulation, in the early days of this month, of a notice purporting to emanate from the republican government, requiring everyone to remove his queue by the 15th day of the Chinese moon (the 5th inst.), but this does not seem to have met with much response. Rumours, of course, have been always plentiful, but yesterday there was an especially insistent report that Chaochow was to fall at 2 o'clock this morning. The evidence produced as confirmation of the rumour was the fact that there had been an especially large baking of fat rolls of bread there during the last day or two; these were to serve as rations for the revolutionary soldiers. Anyhow, the event came off in Chaochow either yesterday evening or last night; the Prefect, Tan, is reported to have fled, and rumour hath it that he is now in hiding in the Japanese Consulate here. The Taoist is said to have gone over to the rebels, and the General alone stands faithful to the Throne. As he has 2,000 odd troops under his command, he may yet cause a lot of trouble unless, as will very likely happen, his soldiers desert him and join the revolutionaries.

Yesterday, too, the Telegraph Office here was surrendered, or rather sold, to the revolutionaries. Their emissaries visited the office, and called on the clerks and operators to throw in their lot with them. They refused, and even a bribe of Tls. 50 each could not move them—they valued their honour and loyalty at no less a sum than Tls. 100.

Another sign of the times yesterday was an unwelcome activity at the premises of the American-China Trading Company—a mysterious organization under the management of Mr. Toe, who is the ostensible proprietor of the Hien Chong Wah Pao, a revolutionary organ. Mr. Toe is said to be a naturalized American citizen, and the Stars and Stripes floats over the premises of the Company. In spite of their acquisition of premises and a great show they have made of the anticipated arrival of ships belonging to the Company, they do not appear to have done a stroke of business yet, and events prove that their premises have been a hive of revolutionary activity. For days past their doors have been strictly guarded by a gigantic Sikh watchman; yesterday, they were opened, but only persons holding a ticket were allowed to enter; and to-day this Mr. Toe has revealed himself as the local representative of the Republican Government.

At mid-day to-day a band of men and boys, about 40 in all, left these premises and marched to the local Law Courts. The mandarins there had already made themselves scarce, so all that remained to be done was to haul down the dragon flag and substitute that of the republic. At the same time a similar body marched to the railway station and captured that, while other bands raided the various police stations in the town and appropriated all the arms to be found in them. To look at the forces of the republic here, it is difficult to understand how they have, over-achieved anything, or why anyone should run away from them, for a more motley rabble it is hard to imagine. A fair half of it, number are mere schoolboys, and there are even women and girls in their ranks (are they the Joan of Arcs of China, or the Christabel Pank-hursts?). Their arms range from halberds and matchlocks to rifles and automatic pistols, while everyone seems to carry a supply of bombs on his person. The light-hearted way, too, in which many of them brandish their Brownings and Mausers is enough to strike terror into anyone's heart, and more especially into the heart of their fellow-rankers. Obviously, chopsticks are the most deadly weapons they have handled hitherto.

The flags displayed here differ from those reported as in use in the North. The "national" flag consists of a white sun with pointed rays on a blue ground; the military flag is a replica of the British red ensign with the same design substituted for the Union Jack in the corner. There is also a white flag that is displayed over places that have submitted to the Republican Government of China, as the insurgents style themselves.

So far, apart from a little natural ebullience, there has been no disturbance, and nothing has arisen to give any grounds for alarm. Indeed, it would be difficult to imagine a more peaceful revolution, and the republican government evidently mean to do all they can to maintain order. A Proclamation has been issued, in true Chinese official style. It is printed from a wood-block, written in a rude doggerel which I will not attempt to reproduce, and impressed with the orthodox red seal. This last is inscribed with characters which may be translated: "The seal of the President of the Military Administration of the Republic of China residing in the Province of Kwangtung." The following is a translation of the Proclamation itself:

"The Military Provincial Government of Kwangtung in the Republic of China."

"A decree having been promulgated by the Military Government, we transmit it faithfully to all classes of the people. The guiding principle of the Government is to drive out the Manchus and re-establish the Chinese. It is barely a month since the patriotic movement started, yet our heroes have already overthrown Peking (sic); the heads of the Manchu chiefs have already come into our hands, and every province in turn is giving its submission."

"Henceforward you, my sisters and brothers, will enjoy perpetual peace; so you students, farmers, artisans and traders should each carry on his business as heretofore. As for the soldiers who have submitted, their rations and pay will be increased above the customary amount. It is important to be faithful in protesting the foreigners who reside in the interior; should any Chinese traitor stir up trouble, or should brigands loot and pillage, they will be beheaded on the spot, as a warning to others."

"Let no one offend against this military decree; but from the time of its appearance, let everyone constantly reverence and obey it."

"The 19th day of the 9th moon of the 4639th year after Huang-ti."

THE NATIONAL ASSEMBLY'S TERMS.

The Constitutional regulations which the Tseochengyuan (National Assembly) submitted to the Throne on November 3rd are given by telegram in the N.C. Daily News as follows:

- 1.—The Tseochengyuan will retain for ever.
- 2.—The Emperor's life is to be inviolable.
- 3.—The power of the Emperor is to be limited by the Constitution.
- 4.—The order of succession will be prescribed in the Constitution.
- 5.—The Constitution will be drawn up and adopted by the Tseochengyuan and promulgated by the Emperor.
- 6.—The power of amending the Constitution belongs to Parliament.
- 7.—Members of the Upper House are to be elected by the people from those particularly eligible.
- 8.—Parliament will elect but the Emperor will appoint the Prime Minister, who will recommend the other members of the Cabinet; the Emperor subsequently appointing them. Imperial Princes are ineligible to be either premiers, cabinet ministers, or administrative heads of provinces.
- 9.—If, on the Premier receiving impeachment, Parliament does not dissolve, he must resign, but one member of the Cabinet is not allowed to dissolve Parliament more than once.
- 10.—The Emperor will assume direct control of the army and navy, but when that power is used in regard to internal affairs, he must observe special conditions to be decided by Parliament, and likewise the exercise of power will be prohibited.
- 11.—Imperial Decrees cannot be made to take the place of law except in cases of necessity or danger, in which case decrees in the nature of a law are to be issuable in accordance with special conditions; but only when in connection with the execution of law or what the law has delegated.
- 12.—International treaties cannot be concluded without the assent of Parliament, but the conclusion of peace or the declaration of war can be made if Parliament is in sitting, the consent of Parliament being secured afterwards.
- 13.—Ordinances in connection with the administration shall be settled by Acts of Parliament.
- 14.—In case the budget fails to receive the approval of Parliament, the Government cannot set upon the previous year's budget, and in the budget no items of further expenses outside the budget can be fixed, nor is it allowed to adopt extraordinary financial measures.
- 15.—Parliament shall fix the expenses of the Imperial Household and their increase or decrease.
- 16.—Regulations in connection with the Imperial Family must not conflict with the Constitution.
- 17.—The two Houses will establish a machinery of Administrative Courts.
- 18.—The Emperor will promulgate the decisions of Parliament.
- 19.—The Tseochengyuan shall act upon Articles 8, 9, 10, 12, 13, 14 and 18 until the opening of Parliament.

ACCEPTANCE BY THE THRONE.

The Throne accepts the nineteen proposed regulations proposed by the Tseochengyuan as the basis of a Constitution.

K.O.Y.L.I. BAND CONCERT.

The concert given by the band of the K.O.Y.L.I. on Saturday night in the City Hall attracted a large audience, who thoroughly enjoyed the excellent programme submitted. Opening with Elgar's "Pomp and Circumstance," the band created a very favourable impression which was increased to enthusiasm by the spirited rendering of the famous "William Tell" overture, and Mr. Moss had to respond to an encore, repeating the latter part of the overture. Then followed selections from Dvorak, Rachmaninoff, and Capua, all of which were greatly appreciated. Mr. H. I. Jones had the second item in this part of the programme, and his artistic rendering of the Prologue to "I Pagliacci" so delighted his hearers that they they insisted upon his re-appearance. Miss Golden sang "For love of you" very sweetly, and had to make a second appearance. In the next part of the programme the orchestra gave admirably interpreted selections from Handel and Flück, and Mr. Denman Fuller received a great ovation for his playing of Allegro Molto, with orchestra, and acknowledged an insistent encore. The picturesque "Peter Gunt" having been contributed by the orchestra, Mrs. Gordon sang "Promise of Life" with her accustomed sweetness and expression and had to re-appear. The programme concluded with the Minden March and the Regimental March.

BOXING.

THE V.R.C. TOURNAMENT.

Probably for the first time in the history of the Club has there been such a poor attendance at a V.R.C. boxing tournament as there was on Saturday night, and this fact can only be ascribed to the committee's lack of foresight in the matter of advertising. But notwithstanding the poor attendance there was an exceptionally good programme. The amateurs, who enter the ring for the sport's sake and the bare honour of a win, and who generally lack the coolness and ringcraft of the professional man, went at it hammer and tongs and were responsible for many exciting moments during the evening. There were also two good professional fights, arranged by Bill Lewis, who was in charge of the ring. The judges were Messrs. F. C. Barlow and W. Logan. Messrs. Kelly and Bond were time-keepers; Mr. K. L. Bridger was master of ceremonies; and the working committee comprised Messrs. A. L. Alves, I. E. Chunnell, Frank Lamport, H. T. Rowan, F. L. de Rosa and Dr. E. Kew. The cups for the amateur contests were kindly presented by Messrs. C. Montague Eds, H. W. Loggier and G. K. Hall Bruton.

In the bantamweight competition Alvaros had a bye, and sparring three rounds. Then I. E. Chunnell and F. Cruz entered the arena to fight the best of three rounds. It was Chunnell's fight from the beginning, and Cruz proved little more than an exceptionally plucky chopping block before the fight was stopped. While it lasted it went at an exceptionally fast pace, and with its end the enthusiasm to which the audience had been worked up manifested itself in a burst of applause. Chunnell was the winner of the cup in this class, Alvaros deciding not to meet him in the final.

The only entrants in the featherweight competition were N. Maha and P. Yvanovich. After four fast rounds the judges disagreed, and the referee ordered the men to fight another round. This proved even a warmer one than its predecessors, and on its conclusion Maha was announced as the winner.

In the lightweight class W. Robertson who drew a bye, sparring three rounds, and then R. A. Carvalho and H. Kelly met in a three round contest. Carvalho showed up very well in the opening round, but was outclassed in the succeeding rounds and the fight ended in favour of Kelly. The winner later met Robertson in the final, and after four fast rounds again came out on top, his victory being acclaimed with much cheering.

The first professional bout was between Gunner Melia of the 88th Coy. R. G. A. and Seaman Ferrigan of R.M.S. Minotaur. The men entered the ring to fight the best of six rounds, and three proved Melia's limit. The fight was willing while it lasted, but the sailor knew too much about the game for his opponent, who took a lot of punishment in the three rounds covered before throwing up the sponge.

The main event, an eight round bout between Gunner Hurl and Seaman Thompson, also had a speedy ending. Early in the fight it was apparent that the sailor was no match for the big gunner, and in the three rounds covered this was proved to be the case. Bart's reach gave him a great advantage, but otherwise he was too skilful for Thompson, and the fight ended in his favour.

At the conclusion of the sport Mr. M. Logan presented the prizes, congratulated the winners on their performances, and sympathizing with the losers, whom he hoped would have better luck next time.

FOOTBALL.

LEAGUE MATCHES.

Two league matches were played at Happy Valley on Saturday.

The Hongkong Football Club met the Naval Yard on the Naval ground, and scored a comparatively easy win, defeating the Yarders by 6 goals to 2.

A closer match resulted between the Royal Engineers and the Royal Garrison Artillery. Play took place on the Military Ground, and a fast and exciting match ended in a win for the Engineers by 3 goals to 2.

A Rugby match was played on the ground of the Hongkong Football Club at Happy Valley on Saturday between a Club team and the Navy. There was a fairly large attendance of spectators, and the match proved an interesting one. It resulted in a win for the Club by 10 points to 6.

THE REVOLUTION AND EASTERN SHIPPING.

Messrs. Lamke & Rogge, ship and freight brokers of Hongkong, in their freight circular say:—

Business resulting in charters during the fortnight under review is practically all for coal tonnage from Japan, in which direction rates at the close show a slight downward tendency. Not only that, there is next to nothing doing, but several forward charters from Newchwang to Canton, owing to the unsatisfactory situation at Canton caused through the outbreak of the revolution, have been cancelled, in some instances charterers being compelled to pay compensation to owners. Without any further business for this season's requirements the port of Newchwang is expected to be closed by ice in the ordinary course before the end of the month. The Tientsin and other Northern trades will for like reason be stopped, and in the South, as circumstances are at present, unfortunately there are no prospects for any improvement before the new rice-crops of Saigon and Bangkok are fit for export, which will not be before the end of December, or beginning of January at the earliest.

If the troubles should drag along for a considerable time, it is hard to say where things are going to end. However, the present rebellion in China is bound to have a good effect upon conditions in the East when all is over, whether the revolt is successful, as it cannot fail to result in the institution of the much needed reforms and opening up of China to foreign trade to a much greater extent than hitherto, and in consequence to the benefit also of shipping.

THE VICTORIA THEATRE.

The quality of entertainment provided at this theatre is vastly improving to suit the tastes of music-lovers, and a continuance of the present class of vocalists is to be commended. On Saturday evening Miss Daisy Lundy made her debut, and, possessing a soprano voice of much sweetness and expression, was enabled to make an eminently successful appearance. The artists were unaware that she had been announced to render Harry Lauder's popular songs, and in consequence sang only one of these items, but in the other numbers Miss Lundy created quite a favourable impression upon the audience, which crowded all parts. The pictures are entirely new, and these also show great improvement upon those heretofore reproduced.

BEAUTY IS ONLY ONE OF ITS MANY MERITS. HALL'S SANITARY WASHABLE DISTEMPER

HAS THESE GREAT ADVANTAGES IN ADDITION:
It is made in a wide range of 70 colours, many of the colours will stand on new plaster walls.
It requires no special solution or liquid—Simply mix the stiff material in hot or cold water—hot recommended.
It is applied with a whitewash brush, saving much in the cost of labour.
For covering power and durability it surpasses any other material. One coat will give an even solid colour, and to all that is usually required.
It dries with a soft velvety finish which enhances the effect of the furniture.
